WORLD PEACE
CHARTER NEAR
FINAL WINDUPBIG - POWER SETUP
ON ENFORCEMENT
RETAINED

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
San Francisco, May 16 (AP)—A United Nations conference committee voted today to stand pat on a big-power plan for enforcing peace through a compact security council of eleven member nations.

In the process, it hammered down in rapid-fire order a host of small and middle power proposals for more authority for themselves in this all-powerful agency of a proposed world organization.

But as the conference entered its fourth week, big and little countries were in substantial accord on most points, and the American delegation decided it was time to press for a speedy wind-up of the job of drafting a world charter.

Trusteeship Big Issue
Some progress was achieved on the biggest issue still before the conference — trusteeships — although whatever is decided about establishing guardianships for dependent or strategic areas of the world may turn out to be somewhat meaningless in individual cases.

The reason is that under present plans a country having a mandate left over from the last war, or one assigned a mandate at the peace table after this world conflict, would have the right to say whether the area should be brought under supervision of a new league.

Nevertheless, a conference committee accepted, as something on which it could go to work, an American-drafted combination of all the trusteeship ideas of the big five—France, Britain, China, Russia and the United States.

Any country, including the big five, can propose changes in it. The trusteeship system would be pegged to four fundamental points: 1. Maintenance of international security; 2. Maintenance of the security of the administering country; 3. Social, economic and political advancement of the native populations; 4. Safeguarding of the area's natural resources.

Five Permanent Seats
As a result of action in another committee, the composition of the security council will be what the four countries sponsoring the conference have recommended — subject, of course, to later approval by the entire conference.

It will have five permanent members—France plus the sponsors (China, Britain, Russia, and America).

All-nation general assembly will fill the six remaining seats.

Stilwell Boosts
Detroit Products,
Says Japs Use 'em

Detroit, May 16 (AP)—Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell was rapidly achieving status today as Detroit's No. 1 booster.

The general, visiting in the arsenal city since yesterday, has been generous in praise of Detroit's war production.

"I don't see why any country ever would pick a fight with us if they knew the truth about production centers like Detroit," Stilwell said.

"The Japs," he added, "know Detroit products are good. They transport their troops around in Ford, Chevrolet and Dodge trucks."

Controls Revoked
For Manufacture
Of Scarce Articles

BY STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, May 16 (AP)—WPE today revoked its controls on an array of civilian products ranging from golf clubs and juke boxes to house trailers, but gave manufacturers no metal to make them.

One sweeping action expunged controls on 1,200 of the commonest civilian items, while the juke box revocation also released pinball machines, coin-operated amusement devices and the so-called "one-armed bandits"—slot machines for gaming.

The War Production Board simultaneously predicted manufacture of 200,000 passenger cars late this year with output rising to 400,000 in the first three months of 1946 and reaching an annual rate of 2,000,000.

Industry Sets Figure
The automobile industry advisory committee, meeting here today, recommended the 200,000 figure for this year and Henry P. Nelson, coordinator of reconversion for the industry, said it looked like "a pretty good approach."

The omnibus order dropped from the WPB books has been a keystone of its controls for almost exactly three years. It forbade the use of iron and steel—and thus in most cases ended production—of 400 types of goods embracing some 1,200 individual products.

It covered coat hangers, bath tubs, compact, flashlight tubes, laundry trays, ice cream freezers, house numbers, parking meters, automatic pencils, match boxes, mop wringers, pie plates, shower stalls, ice and roller skates, and a host of other familiar things.

The publishing industry will benefit from two more revocations, one lifting restrictions on the manufacture of new printing machinery and the other removing limits on the amount of copper and zinc which may be used in producing printing plates.

Materials Needed First
WPB will not make a policy of granting priority aid for printing machinery except in unusual cases, it was stated. It probably will take eight or nine months to provide printing items that have been discontinued completely.

Similar warnings that improved production cannot be expected immediately—in most cases not until after materials restraints are removed on July 1—accompanied other revocations. They included:

Removal of the ban which prohibited manufacture of golf clubs except for the army, navy and veterans administration; WPB warned golfers not to expect new clubs soon.

Revocation of controls on production and sale of house trailers and expandable mobile homes. The latter are trailer-type dwellings with collapsible sections which permit expansion when the unit is stationary.

Cancellation of the rules regulating manufacture of jacks, whether operated mechanically, electrically, hydraulically or by air.

AIDE CONVINCED
HITLER IS DEADFuehrer's Sweetheart
Died With Him, Says
Civil Servant

BY A. I. GOLDBERG
Berchtesgaden, Germany, May 16 (AP)—Hitler's sweetheart, Eva Braun, virtually eered a suicide pact with the fuhrer when she elected to stay with him at Berlin during its final siege, Gerhardt Hergessell, chief of the Nazi leader's secretarial staff, told me today.

The sharp-eyed aide who had been in Hitler's entourage for years, asserted that both Eva and Hitler knew they would die in a bunker shelter under the Reich chancellery.

Hitler, resigned to his fate for several days beforehand, Hergessell said, became dreamy and impatient of suggestions that all defense against the Americans be pulled back and hurled against the Russians. Eva, he said, wept and wrote a long letter in which she enclosed her favorite piece of jewelry and sent it back to Hitler's castle here. The letter and the jewel have not been found.

Hergessell, a precise civil servant and law student with a rank equivalent to that of a circuit judge in the United States and not merely a stenographer, told how Hitler and his aides held a series of meetings April 20-22 during which Hitler decided that he would stay in Berlin to meet death. The secretary said he was convinced that Hitler was dead and that the death story had not been staged nor a double used in place of the fuhrer.

FLUTTER CASE
PROVES PUZZLECaptain With Galloping
Diaphragm Collapses
On Ann Arbor Street

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 16 (AP)—University hospital authorities were baffled today by the strange case of a patient, claiming to be an army captain, whose diaphragm was fluttering 200 times a minute.

The man, who gave his name and age as Millard Duckett, 68, was brought to the hospital after he collapsed on an Ann Arbor street Tuesday night.

Wearing an army captain's uniform with service ribbons for the European theater, he told hospital authorities he had seen duty in the Spanish-American War, World War I and World War II. He said he had been a Japanese prisoner of war until recently, but wore no Pacific area ribbons. Army officers were asked to help determine the man's identity and status.

Hospital doctors said a similar case of the enigmatic diaphragm ailment was reported by three Denver and San Francisco physicians in the April, 1938, issue of the American Medical Journal. The article reported that a man with the mysterious flutter had turned up for treatment in hospitals all over the west and each time had given a different name and story of his life. One time, it said, the victim claimed he was a "sea captain back from a voyage."

Dr. Albert C. Kerlikowske, assistant medical director of the hospital, said that except for the diaphragm ailment, the man's condition was good.

Michigan Faces Cut
In Whisky Rations

Lansing, May 16 (AP)—Prospects are poor for the continuance of the present whisky ration in Michigan, John P. Aaron, chairman of the state liquor control commission, said today.

Aaron said two distilleries had notified the state its whisky quota had been cut. One of the largest suppliers of whisky cut the quota two-thirds, or about 20,000 cases a month, Aaron said, and another has cut the state about 25 per cent.

He estimated the two had slashed Michigan's supply between one-fifth and one-seventh. "We can't take many more of these cuts and keep up our present quota and ration," he said. "Things look pretty dark. Washington says there will be no more holidays to permit manufacture of whisky and of cane spirits, and that no cane spirits which have been used for blending liquors must go into industrial production."

Aaron also said there had been a 23,000 case reduction in whisky sales last month. He attributed much of the reduction to the plugging of loopholes by the new ration system.

BATTLE FRONT
UNCHANGED

BY LEIF ERICKSON
Guam, Thursday, May 17 (AP)—Marine patrols crossed Asato River estuary and entered Okinawa's capital city, Naha, today as fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported the island campaign had cost the lives of 3,781 American troops and total U. S. ground casualties of 20,950.

Associated Press Correspondent Vern Haugland radioed from Okinawa that a patrol of the Sixth Marine division entered the main part of Naha after bitter fighting. Leathernecks had been battling savagely counterattacking Japanese in the suburbs four days.

Haugland also reported that the 96th infantry division's 382nd regiment maneuvered slowly to within a few hundred yards of Shuri's northeast boundary. This placed the regiment closer to that fortress city, key of the southern defense line, than the 77th infantry division, which was about one mile north of Shuri.

An estimated 34,000 Japanese troops remain on Okinawa, Haugland said.

Systematic destruction of Japan's key war industries was pushed by the American Superfortress command today as more than 500 of the sky giants returned to the great city of Nagoya for the second time in 68 hours to rain 3,500 tons of fire bombs on prime targets.

As the Superforts made their pre-dawn strike Thursday (Tokyo Time) American ground forces on bloody Okinawa and in the southern Philippines remained locked in deadly combat with fanatical die-hard Japanese forces.

Fighting Uphill
The roaring battle front on Okinawa was practically unchanged as American doughboys and marines carried the fight to the Japanese.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz disclosed in his communique today that the Okinawa campaign had cost 3,781 American lives through May 14. Japanese fatalities reached the staggering total of 46,505. The Nipponese also lost 1,038 men captured.

The American wounded totaled 17,004 and the missing 165. The Yanks registered only local gains on Okinawa where the fighting was uphill or through rugged terrain.

New York, May 16 (AP)—Cigarette manufacturers said today an improvement in the civilian supply could be expected within two to three months.

Navy Reveals Jap
Submarines Made
Raids In Atlantic

Washington, May 16 (AP)—A disclosure that Japanese submarines have been operating in the Atlantic came from the navy today.

Admiral Jonas H. Ingram, commanding the Atlantic fleet, told a news conference in unfolding some of the long-held secrets of the "Battle of the Atlantic" that American craft had sunk one Japanese submarine late last summer just south of Iceland.

He said it was identified by flotsam which rose to the surface after its destruction. This was the first word that Nipponese undersea raiders had joined—or attempted to join—German U-boats in harassing Allied shipping in the Atlantic.

A giant 1600-ton German submarine carrying three German Luftwaffe officers and aviation plans and equipment headed for Japan surrendered Sunday in the Atlantic.

Dr. Ley, Top Nazi
Criminal, Caught
In Hill Hideout

BY A. I. GOLDBERG

Berchtesgaden, Germany, May 16 (AP)—Dr. Robert Ley, 55-year-old arch Nazi and the Reich's labor minister, was captured tonight by the 101st Airborne Division acting upon a tip from the German underground.

He was identified beyond doubt by two high Nazi party leaders who also are American prisoners and by an American counter intelligence officer who said, "This capture may be even more important than the surrender of Goering because we have proved indisputably that Ley is the mastermind behind the Werewolf movement."

Dull-eyed and sullen, perhaps from fatigue and terror, the man who goaded German workers into their all-out effort for Hitler, first tried to deny his identity when captured at a mountain hideaway 45 miles south of Berchtesgaden.

Cloaked behind a four-day growth of beard, and wearing blue pajamas, he said he was "Dr. Ernst Distelmeyer." But when members of a U. S. counter intelligence team started to question him, he reached for a vial and tried to swallow its contents.

Still in pajamas, but wearing an overcoat, a green hat and thick-soled shoes, he was brought in a jeep to division headquarters where his shoes were searched for razor blades.

At headquarters identification was made by Frank Xavier Schwarz, treasurer of the Nazi party, and his son, Franz, as well as by the American officer who had known him for 13 years.

Ley was unable to produce papers showing himself to be "Dr. Distelmeyer." He was confronted with his pictures in a Nazi party roster book, but still denied his real identity.

Then the younger Schwarz was brought into the room where Ley was slumped in a chair.

Schwarz gasped, "Herr Doctor Ley!"

Ley, among the most fanatical of all the Nazis, rose through the party's ranks to become one of Hitler's most powerful lieutenants. As leader of the German labor

WIFE 4 TIMESEmmett Farm Woman,
Drives For Help
After Attack

Yale, Mich., May 16 (AP)—Shot four times, a 31-year-old farm woman made her way to a hospital here today, and police uncovered an astonishing story.

Sheriff Ferris E. Lucas of St. Clair county said the woman, Mrs. Alice Polate, told of being shot without apparent provocation by her estranged husband, Steve, 52, at her home three miles west of Emmett.

Despite her wounds Mrs. Polate, the sheriff said, drove her car two miles to the home of a neighbor and was accompanied by the latter to a hospital here.

Mrs. Polate was shot twice in the chest, once in the side, and once in the hand, police said.

In the meanwhile, Sheriff Lucas said, Polate disappeared, but within a few hours, after broadcast alarms, was arrested in Detroit on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Polate was being returned here tonight.

Sheriff Lucas attributed this account to Mrs. Polate.

Her husband, from whom she had been separated since last Fall, came to visit her this noon and in the course of a conversation turned a pistol on her.

She fell from one shot and as she lay on the floor Polate three times started to leave and each time returned to fire at her again while she pleaded with him to desist. He then fled, driving off in his car.

Mrs. Polate dragged herself to a bed and, after lying there for some time, arose and, locking the house door, went to her own car and drove to the house of Adam Goodman, who took her into town.

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Paris, May 16 (AP)—The first group of American veterans—more than 15,000 strong—with scores above the 85 critical discharge points to their credit will head for the United States June 1, supreme headquarters announced today.

Composed almost entirely of men with combat experience, the group will include 12,000 from the 12th Army Group (U. S. First, Third and Ninth Armies), 3,000 from the Sixth Army group (U. S. Seventh Army and French First), and 500 from the Air Forces. Less than two per cent of the total will be officers.

Shipment of men over 42 has started already and it is expected that by the end of June all 11,000 enlisted men over that age will have been sent home for discharge.

First War Loan
Billion In Vault

Washington, May 16 (AP)—The first billion dollars in the 7th War Loan drive is in the vault.

Ted R. Gamble, national war finance director, said "this is approximately what we were expecting at this stage of the drive but as in all the drives—the first billion is the easiest."

He announced these sales figures: To individuals, $1,264,000,000—about 18 per cent of the individuals' goal of $7,000,000,000. In Series E bonds, $1,021,000,000—more than 25 per cent of the 3 bond quota of $4,000,000,000. This is included in the individuals' category.

No sales to corporations will be announced until June 19. The over-all quota of the drive is $14,000,000,000. The drive started Monday and runs through June 30.

Restaurants Close;
No Foods To Serve

New York, May 16 (AP)—Paul Henkel, president of the Society of Restaurateurs, said today 300 to 400 New York City restaurants would close June 1, theoretically for the summer but actually "until the food situation improves."

Henkel said restaurants faced a crisis because of a scarcity of such commodities as eggs and meats and that a shortage also had developed in non-rationed foods.

Wet Asphalt Fools
Geese For Landing

Jackson, Mich., May 16 (AP)—A "crash landing" of about 80 Canadian geese on the wet asphalt landing strip at the municipal airport in rain and fog was reported today by Roy Heaton, airport manager.

Heaton said the birds appeared greatly confused but finally took off, apparently unhurt, after a long run and much wing flapping. Heaton said the geese must have mistaken the landing strip for a river.

They declined to talk about their 45-minute conversation as they left the White House.

ALL-MILITARY CONTROL WILL END NAZIISMDOENITZ ACTS ONLY AS STOP-GAP IN GOVERNMENT

BY JAMES M. LONG

Paris, May 16 (AP)—A program of sweat and discipline under which Germany will have to earn her way back into the community of nations under strict military control was laid down by the Allies today.

The so-called German government of Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz was declared officially to be only a temporary stop-gap, "fully controlled" by the Allies while it fulfills its useful purpose.

No Kid Gloses
A supreme headquarters statement said Doenitz "and certain other selected German officers" were being used only temporarily as an instrument for facilitating the surrender and disarmament of German forces and were acting under complete Allied control.

The formal statement made clear that there was no thought of recognizing Doenitz and his "Flensburg group" as a German government. So far as the Allies are concerned, Count Ludwig Schwerin Von Krosigk "does not exist" as Doenitz's foreign minister.

This was underscored by Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, General Eisenhower's deputy for the occupation of Germany. "The Allied government of Germany is going to be military, and the Germans are going to know it is military," declared Clay.

War Makers Doomed
In London Prime Minister Churchill told commons that it was the Allied aim that "the Germans should administer their country in obedience to Allied directions."

The British leader added that "we have no intention of undertaking the burden of administering Germany ourselves." It was not immediately clear how these statements fitted into the pattern of the yet to be determined future of Germany, but Clay declared that all that is left of Germany's potential to make war would be smashed.

The hard-boiled commander, who was said to have been picked by President Roosevelt to handle the job, also declared that all vestiges of Nazism would be destroyed; all war criminals caught and punished.

Propaganda Cut Off
In a formal announcement designed to set at rest any fears that the "Flensburg" group had received some sort of recognition, Allied headquarters said:

"Admiral Doenitz and certain other selected Germans are being used temporarily to carry out duties in connection with the feeding, disarmament and medical care of German armed forces."

"These German officers are fully controlled and are there solely to carry out the instructions of commanders of the Allied expeditionary force."

Ambassador Robert Murphy, political advisor to Eisenhower, amplified the statement with the pointed observation that Count Von Krosigk did not exist officially.

He said that a broadcast by Von Krosigk last week was wholly unauthorized and was made before the Allies seized the radio station over which several of the Doenitz group had addressed the German people. Murphy said there would be no repetition of such propaganda.

World Peace Charter Near Final Windup

electing countries for two-year terms with due regard to the contribution of members of the (world) organization towards the maintenance of international peace and security and towards the other purposes of the organization, and also to equitable geographical distribution.

Through Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), the big five produced another proposal that would answer some little nation demands for a bigger voice in shaping the course of the future world.

It would increase to some extent the authority of the general assembly, the only branch of the world organization in which the smaller countries would have much chance to discuss international troubles.

Another, and perhaps the most important find, was a collection of every chemical formula and process the Germans had devised or invented since 1933.

They were assembled in the archives of the German Chemical Society, "Deutsche Chemische Gesellschaft." These archives were hidden in a mine and, according to the experts I talked to, there wasn't a chance that we would find them. However, this mine was of such a nature that it would be flooded by water if not regularly pumped. The pump wasn't functioning any more due to lack of electricity.

All this was known to one Nazi scientist who couldn't bear to see the fruit of so many years destroyed. Therefore, he decided to speak up to the Allied authorities, who saved the precious formulas in the nick of time.

SIGN OF BETTER HERDS — Gerald Steff admires the sign on the farm of his father, Joe Steff at Cornell, which was among the first in the county to be erected yesterday in an Escanaba Chamber of Commerce-sponsored program to encourage dairy herd improvement in the county.

The signs were presented for the Chamber of Commerce yesterday at the state fair grounds in Escanaba by E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent. The Daily Press photographer visited the Steff "Delta Swiss Farm" where the sign was erected near the dairy barn. The signs give the name of the herd owner, or farm, and the information that "a registered sire from a production tested herd" is used to improve the quality of the herd.

To qualify for one of the signs the dairy farmer must own a bull whose record of ancestry shows 350 pounds of fat or more. Wenner said there are now on record in the county 56 bulls with the required record of ancestry to qualify. About 25 signs were given out yesterday at the fair grounds and others will be supplied to the farmers by the county agent. Included among those who received a better herds sign yesterday were:

Sulo Auer, Rock; Jules Van Damme and Phil Lippens, St. Nicholas; Ed Sealander, Perkins; Harold Woodard, Clayton Ford and Joseph Steff of Cornell; John Marcella, Flat Rock; Omer Tanguay, Leslie Haring, Bark River; John Moberg, Isabella; Henry Van Mill, Fred Holm and Walter Grandholm, Ensign; Peter Gardner and George Larson, Danforth; and Arthur Thompson of Cornell.

Nazi Secrets Seized At Hitler's Hideout

BY CURT RIESS

Berchtesgaden — This correspondent has just paid a short visit to what was generally considered the last fortress of Nazism. It fell without any fight whatever.

Contrary to what I had expected, nobody seemed sorry for Hitler or despaired about the fall of Nazism. The people told me almost unanimously, "Hitler died too late. His death can't save us any more." This is Berchtesgaden today. There is no pride left in the fact that this town only a short time ago was the center of world-shaking decisions.

At Berchtesgaden, the Allies found and secured many valuable documents, secret papers, plans, etc. From the fact that so much was found under destroyed, it may be deduced that the Nazis didn't count on such speedy progress of our forces. Otherwise, certainly much would have been hidden or burned.

The Allies have been almost unbelievably successful in finding what the Nazis didn't want us to find during our speedy occupation of Germany. It is true that the Nazis succeeded in destroying the most obviously damning material, such as party files. But they neglected to destroy their secondary files from which party lists can be reconstructed easily. The same goes for lists of sympathizers, some of whom took the precaution not to enter the party.

Just one example: We found among the correspondence of an important gauleiter a list of more than 500 names and addresses of people to whom the gauleiter sent birthday congratulations. Many addresses were not party members, but it goes without saying that such close personal relations prove them to be suspect.

Find Robot Secrets

Among the most interesting finds was the full secret of the robot bombs. According to my information, a certain part of the robot bombs could never be reconstructed by the Allies until now. Now this particular part was found—model, blueprints and all. This has, of course, no bearing on the war any longer, but may help us to devise counter weapons against whoever may want to use robot bombs in the future.

Another, and perhaps the most important find, was a collection of every chemical formula and process the Germans had devised or invented since 1933. They were assembled in the archives of the German Chemical Society, "Deutsche Chemische Gesellschaft." These archives were hidden in a mine and, according to the experts I talked to, there wasn't a chance that we would find them. However, this mine was of such a nature that it would be flooded by water if not regularly pumped. The pump wasn't functioning any more due to lack of electricity.

All this was known to one Nazi scientist who couldn't bear to see the fruit of so many years destroyed. Therefore, he decided to speak up to the Allied authorities, who saved the precious formulas in the nick of time.

Amann is Meek

This correspondent has also inspected quite a number of homes of the Nazi leaders, all of which were secured by our troops, so that no documents, books, etc. can escape. One particularly interesting house I inspected is that of Max Amann, Nazi publisher, one who together with Hitler stole most of the German newspapers and publishing houses. His summer home was near Tegernsee, about 30 miles from Munich, a little palace with every thinkable convenience. His library was full of all the Nazi books, most of which were published by Amann and bear personal dedications.

Speaking of personal dedications, one observation I made is that many fly leaves of Nazi books in libraries of prominent Nazis are now torn out, evidently because the owner tried to hide the fact that he had personal relations to Hitler, Himmler, Goering and Goebbels.

Amann was arrested a few days ago. His wife and several children have remained in the house, sullen, unfriendly and arrogant. Amann himself, according to what American soldiers carrying out his arrest said, was subservient, almost painfully modest, and only too willing to obey orders.

This seems the main characteristic of all Nazis once they're caught. I witnessed today the capture of a General of S. S. in Arms who for some time was hidden in Dachau. The man, about 55 years old, was dressed in civilian clothes. He wore glasses, and his eyes looked timid and innocent. He appeared entirely incapable of doing anything drastic, let alone cruel, yet he is responsible for the most horrible crimes.

Prominent Nazis are now being arrested everywhere. Their stories are always the same—that they personally disapproved of everything the Nazis did. It seems, indeed, that one must hand it to Hitler for being able to run all of Germany for 13 years against the violent opposition of 70 million odd Germans.

ALL-MILITARY CONTROL WILL END NAZIISM

ganda. Must Stand Together

General Clay, the main speaker at a long and detailed press conference mapping out the treatment in store for Germany, made it plain that his part of the occupation was going to be strictly military and strictly severe.

German civilian machinery will be established, he said, only on a very low civil service level, just sufficient to keep essential services functioning. The only industries being reestablished are those essential for relief problems and transport needed by the occupying forces.

Telling of his determination to crush Nazism and to turn over to any Allied government any Nazi wanted by that government as a war criminal, Clay said:

"Until that job is done and until it is done thoroughly, I hope you will not worry about the longer-range problem of regenerating the German people. That will come later—not now."

He said American forces had stepped into Germany to stay "in all probability for a long time." It seemed likely that the realistic program he outlined for his zone would apply as well to those of the Russians, British and French.

He said the decision on the actual boundaries of the occupation zones could be expected soon.

"More important than just the occupation of Germany," Clay reminded the newsmen, "is whether the four nations can stand together to punish Germany. If they cannot, what hope is there for the United Nations?"

"We will have to give and take and probably do lots of things that the people of the United States may not like," he said.

Clay said the food situation in Germany was going to be a "very tight squeeze" this winter, but he declared the Allies would not bring food into the country until actual starvation conditions exist.

Navy Reveals Jap Subs Made Atlantic Raids

1944, hunted down, attacked, boarded, and captured intact the Nazi submarine U-505 150 miles west of the French West African coast.

The submarine was towed 2500 miles to the Bermuda naval operating base, and marked the first time since the War of 1812 that a foreign enemy man of war was captured on the high seas by the U. S. Navy.

Admiral Ingram noted that only 24 hours before Germany surrendered, a U-boat was sunk off Block Island.

"We also got another sub south of Nova Scotia in the middle of April," he said. "And we had a probable kill off Cape Hatteras just two weeks before the surrender."

The large submarine which surrendered Sunday about 500 miles east of Newfoundland also contained the bodies of two dead Japanese, apparently had just committed hara kiri before the navy capture crew boarded her.

Since the declaration of war, he said, the Atlantic fleet escorted 16,760 ships across the Atlantic of which only 15 were lost in convoy.

It required 3,552 escort ships to do the job. The Atlantic fleet and ships in convoy cruised more than 50 million miles in the battle against the U-boats.

Only three weeks before Germany surrendered, a formidable wolf pack of U-boats was intercepted and badly mauled by one of the most powerful forces of carriers and destroyer escorts ever to operate in the mid-Atlantic.

"From prisoners we learned that this pack had orders to blanket the east coast from Maine to Florida," he said.

This final outbreak, he said, undoubtedly was "the Nazis last fanatical attempt to panic us before the collapse. They did manage to torpedo five merchantmen off the east coast in the last three weeks, all but two reaching port."

At the same news conference, Admiral Thomas C. Kinkaid, the 7th Fleet commander now in Washington for consultations, said the Japanese submarine fleet is "not enough to constitute an effective menace" to our war effort or to redeployment in the Pacific.

The 1940 census made the first complete inventory of the educational status of the entire population of the United States.

Of America's cotton farmers, some 1,600,000 derive some income from the sale of cottonseed oil.

Lud Denny got home early from the plant the other day, and found his missus in the middle of housecleaning, with the furniture moved around, and the place a shambles.

Some men might have grumbled about getting precious little time off, and finding their home upset. But not Lud. He just took his coat off, and pitched in and helped.

And when he got the last curtain in place, and stepped down off the ladder, there was his missus with a tray of cold beer and cheese blintzes she'd made for Lud. And blintzes are Lud's favorite dish.

From where I sit, it's little things like this that will help to ease our troubled lives today—see us through difficulties—keep alive the spirit of good fellowship and mutual respect. Try trading a helping hand for ice-cold beer and blintzes. See if it doesn't make life seem a little brighter!

WHY OKINAWA GAINS ARE IN YARDS—You don't measure gains on Okinawa in feet; you get down to bitterly-contested yards, furlongs and inches. Reason is the intricate system of pillboxes and caves set up on every ridge in the southern section of the island. Fanatical Japs, holding out to the last man, must be exterminated as shown above, where soldiers of the U. S. Tenth Army's 27th Division stand outside a pillbox with rifles ready. One of them prepares to toss in another grenade, after previous blast had blown out the Japs whose bodies lie before entrance to tomb used as pillbox. (NEA Photo.)

Large Airplane Tows Grasshopper

Fifth Air Force, Philippine Islands. (P)—What is believed to be the longest airplane tow on record was made recently when a C-47 transport towed a short-range, Cub-type plane almost all the way from Biak to Leyte—some 1,300 miles.

The small plane used up exactly two gallons of gas for the trip—one gallon when it landed under its own power in a stop at Peleliu Island, and another when it landed on Leyte. The tow was attempted in order to get the small L-5 to the Philippines, where it was needed quickly. Engineering officers figured out that disassembly, crating and assembly would require about 500 man hours, and would keep the plane out of action too long. Towing solved the time problem, and delivered the "grasshopper" to Leyte all ready for action, including a full tank of gas.

Dr. Joseph Dewey Dies In Marquette

Marquette — Dr. Joseph C. Dewey, 52, director of training and placement at the Northern Michigan College of Education and superintendent of the John D. Pierce training school, died at 3:25 Tuesday morning in St. Luke's hospital where he had been a patient the past week. His death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage. He was taken ill Saturday night, May 5, when returning to Marquette from a health conference in the Copper Country.

He leaves his wife, Wanda Barnes Dewey; a daughter, Jo Anne, and a sister, Mrs. Gladys Dewey Sherman, Spokane, Wash.

Game Bird Broods Destroyed By Cold

Lansing, May 16. (P)—The state conservation department reported today prospects for the upland bird hunting season next fall have been jeopardized by the recent cold, wet weather.

Ruffed grouse started nesting April 1, a month earlier than normal, and officers of the game division said they feared many broods had been destroyed by the rain and freezing temperatures. The experts earlier had predicted an increase in the number of prairie chickens and grouse, which had been declining since 1941 and apparently reached the bottom of the cycle last year.

The greater relative contribution to farm financing needs made by the life insurance companies today, as compared with 25 years ago, is reflected in the fact that the life companies now write nearly 20 per cent of total farm mortgages, compared with 8 to 14 per cent in the years 1914 to 1918.

Completion of a South American transcontinental railroad, linking the opposite coasts of Santos, Brazil, and Africa, Chile, is scheduled for 1947.

BOMBS RAINED ON NAGOYA BY GIANT B-29S

Okinawa. Carrier and marine fliers shot down nine. The others fled.

Arson District Hit

The powerful incendiary strike on Nagoya carried the giant bombers over prime targets in the southern part of the city. The fliers observed fires still burning in the northern sector where they unloaded 3,500 tons of incendiaries during daylight last Monday.

Thursday the B-29 bombardiers dropped more than 1,000,000 six-pound fire bombs in a 16-square mile area hitherto untouched by Yank raiders. They aimed at one of the largest aircraft assembly plants in the world, a major arsenal factory district, giant industrial plants all engaged in war work, transportation and storage areas and hundreds of home industries devoted to Japan's war effort.

In the first fire bomb smash against Nagoya last March the B-29s laid waste to 5.9 square miles of the teeming metropolis.

The Japanese trapped in the central hill country of Mindanao and the Davao area fought savagely. They staged another large counterattack north of Davao but fell back before furiously fighting doughboys. Another Yank column advanced to within eight miles of the Valencia air center. Japanese resistance was strong in the Del Monte sector.

Naval Base Smashed

American PT boats on Davao gulf smashed up a small Japanese naval base. They destroyed a half dozen Nippon torpedo boats and fuel and ammunition dumps.

Guerrilla forces went into action in northeast Luzon island, harassing the Japanese in the Cagayan valley.

American forces pushing up the east coast of Luzon were within three miles of the Nippon seaplane anchorage at Port Lampon.

Dutch troops on Tarakan, just off Borneo, landed on the southern tip of the island to support the Australian and Dutch forces driving through the oil fields.

American fliers from Philippine bases blasted targets on Formosa and the East Indies and sank nine ships off Borneo, in the China Sea and off the Netherlands Indies.

The Chinese high command said street fighting continued in Foochow, strategic port on China's east coast opposite Formosa. The Chinese fought their way into the city last Friday.

He edited two newspapers, one of which has been described as "the wildest, maddest anti-Semitic publication which ever made use of the German language."

He was involved in many acts of violence and frequently was imprisoned. But his efforts won him distinction in the party and in 1932 he became its organization leader for the entire country. He was made head of the labor front in 1933.

In this capacity he wiped out all labor unions, brutally and ruthlessly. All union members except Jews were told they were automatically members of the new labor front and those who objected either were killed or thrown into concentration camps.

He created the Nazis' "Strength Through Joy" movement and lectured the "Many Children League" on the "natural, healthy phenomenon of illegitimacy."

As a result of his constant haranguing he was said to have had, over a period of years, more influence on the German masses than any other person except Hitler himself.

A number of upper peninsula cities have been proposed as possible sites for the veterans facility. It is understood that Mr. Warren will visit all proposed sites and to study them from an engineering standpoint.

Wisconsin Expert Says Silvery Smelt Is Making Comeback

Madison, Wis.—The smelt are coming back in Green Bay.

That is the considered judgment of state conservation department experts employed to keep tab on Wisconsin commercial fisheries developments.

Matt Patterson, who from the vantage point of his Sturgeon Bay station watches fisheries matters closely for the department, advised members of the Wisconsin conservation commission that increasing numbers of the little fish which disappeared completely and mysteriously several years ago are now being observed and taken by fishermen.

May Threaten the Herring

His report brought on an informal discussion of fisheries experts and commissioners on the potential effect of a smelt revival on the restored herring fisheries of northeastern Wisconsin.

They speculated upon the possibility that if the smelt again thrive in Green Bay they may threaten the herring, which is from the commercial standpoint a more valuable species of fish.

Have Little Information

Fisheries men recalled that the herring supply in Green Bay waters dropped precipitately about the time the smelt appeared some years ago, and they commented on the circumstance that during the last two or three years, when the smelt has been almost wholly absent from the bay, the herring appear to have increased in numbers.

They conceded that there is little scientific data touching upon the relation of the two species, but speculated that the smelt when too numerous crowd out the herring because of the competition

Loading Up for Japs

THE movement of tremendous quantities of war material from Europe to the Pacific theater will be an important factor in speeding up the progress of the war against the Japanese. The end of the European war resulted in a backlog of 5,500,000 tons of supplies there that are vitally needed in the Pacific, and the decision to transfer that equipment directly to the Far East is encouraging evidence of the determination to speed the day of victory on the last remaining war front.

There had been rumors that much of the equipment remaining in Europe at the end of fighting there would be left on the continent and that new equipment for the Pacific theater would be sent from the arsenals in the United States. That those reports, unfounded in logic, were false is a source of considerable satisfaction.

In addition to the supplies available in Europe, the Pacific war front will be fortified with the most modern weapons being developed in American war plants today. They include, for instance, the new U. S. General Pershing tank, a war weapon that unfortunately was not available for use against the Germans whose Tiger tanks admittedly were superior to our own. They include also the B-29 bomber, now in heavy production but not yet reported in combat. The effectiveness of these weapons, and the spurt in war supplies to the Pacific, should prove enormously beneficial in shortening the length of the war against the Japanese, and more important, in saving the lives of American servicemen.

Still another encouraging factor in the progress of the war against the Japanese is the success of the Chinese troops battling for the ports of Foochow and Wenchow. Capture of these ports would make possible an early entry of American troops in force on the Chinese mainland.

OWI Had Wrong Slant

FORTUNATELY, General Eisenhower has made it clear there will be no rigid censorship of news in Germany as was recently announced by Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information.

Mr. Davis had stated that Allied newspapers and magazines would be banned from circulating in Germany for an indefinite period during the military occupation. His explanation was that the German people might get the wrong impression from the reading of controversial articles in the publications. They might think that there was a lack of unity among the American people and between the United States and the other Allied nations.

In other words, the Office of War Information and certain military authorities were to determine just what the German people would be allowed to read. Of course, it was the same kind of policy that they were accustomed to under a decade of Hitler rule, but it is obvious that it is impossible to reeducate these people along the lines of democracy by merely giving them extra doses of Nazi medicine.

Announcement of the OWI news suppression policy for Germany was quickly followed by loud criticism in this country. It is a good thing that we still enjoy free expression of opinion in America.

Fatalities Mount

DELTA county's traffic toll was increased this week with the deaths of two small children who were victims of accidents in Escanaba and Kipling.

The tragedies again should serve to remind us all that danger is always present on the streets and highways in this modern motor age. The main highway through Kipling has a record of a considerable number of accidents over a period of years. The community's school is located on the highway, and because of the absence of sidewalks the well-traveled road is used by many pedestrians. "Drive carefully" should be the watchword for every motorist who passes through Kipling.

Rail Safety Increases

THE annual report of the Interstate Commerce Commission contains interesting figures on the safety record of the railroads. Most surprising to many non-railroaders is the fact that in each of the years following 1940, the passenger casualties, both fatal and non-fatal, averaged fewer per billion passenger miles than in 1940. In other words, rising casualties did not keep up with rising number of passengers carried.

With respect to the experience in this war as contrasted to the last war, the figures are doubly interesting. Says the Commission: "It appears that for each class of person the fatalities were much greater in World War I than in World War II, the total for all classes (employees, passengers, etc.) being 10,087 in 1917 and 9,286 in 1918, compared with 5,337 in 1942 and 5,051 in 1943. Norris, Tennessee—In a world so full of war and destruction, it is good to come here to the heart of the Tennessee valley where a great creative project—a great creative idea—is growing and developing, taking root in this ancient American soil.

Inevitably, of course, the war has deflected the Tennessee valley authority from its basic goal, since so much of TVA's energy is going into the war effort. At one time, up to 60 per cent of TVA power was being used to fabricate aluminum for the vast fleets of bombers and fighters that have done so much to bring victory in Europe. But the goal of TVA has never been lost sight of. You can see progress wherever you look; the kind of progress that ramifies out so far no one can calculate what its ultimate effect will be.

It's hard to put the TVA into words. It is not just the generation of electric power, which TVA has done in abundance. It is not alone flood control and the strings of barges that you see moving up and down the Tennessee and its tributaries. Nor is it merely soil conservation. All of these things are part of TVA. But as you hear them talk it down here, it is more than this. It is the growth of a region. It is the growth of people and the growth of the soil they live on. So many things go into it that I can't be weighed.

Not America alone, but the whole world is discovering the meaning of TVA. In recent years a constant procession of visitors has come to the Tennessee valley from every part of the globe. Many of the delegates to the San Francisco Conference have inquired about the possibility of stopping here before they return to their respective homes.

The Chinese, in particular, have come to TVA to study every phase of the project. From England and from the British Commonwealth have come many officials who take back voluminous reports on housing, on power, on reforestation, on soil conservation. The Latin-American Republics have all sent representatives at one time or another and, in some instances, they have hired TVA experts to plan similar developments in the other Americas.

In the broadest sense, TVA is part of our foreign policy. It is part of our strength, part of our attraction for the rest of the world. Foreign visitors are impressed by our skyscrapers, our industries, our great schools and art centers. But they are impressed, too, by what government can do in cooperation with the people of a region.

What impressed me more than almost anything else, in a brief tour of the valley, was one of the least spectacular phases of TVA. We visited a small community of Negro farmers who have lived for several generations on Hilly land that is near the lake created by Chickamauga Dam, one of the chief TVA power developments.

The community had been desperately poor. It is still poor. But you can see the changes that have come.

There are truck gardens. Soil-enriching crops are planted to check erosion and the prolonged drain on soil fertility that resulted from year after year of the one-crop-for-cash system. More important, there is livestock on the land—cattle and chickens.

We stopped at the neat house of the T. E. Robinson family. Mrs. Robinson had just won a state prize for highest profit per hen, based on carefully kept records. With pride she showed us her two big hen houses, one full of Rhode Island Reds, the other of White Leghorns. The small pasture was planted to Lespedeza, she said.

I asked her how much help had been brought in from the outside. Well, not much, she said. Of course, the TVA phosphate fertilizer they had been able to buy at cost of transportation.

"But the county agent, he came and showed us how," she said. "And I guess if he hadn't, we'd just be jumping up and down in one place like we was before."

This illustrated one of TVA's cardinal principles. No do-gooders go around telling people how to behave. TVA provides the facilities, the research, the guidance which can be drawn upon by the people of the region.

The men who work at first hand with the people of the valley are almost all themselves valley people. W. M. Landess, the agricultural consultant, with his warm insight into human beings and the land they till, is a good example. This is not government by handout. It is government by partnership.

"chortle" from chuckle and snort; "burbble" from bubble and gurggle; "slithy" from slimey and lithe; "galumph" from gallop and triumph.

"Scurry" is a blend-word formed from scatter and hurry; "rustle," as to rustle up business, is from rush and hustle.

American slang is especially rich in portmanteau coinages: "swelegant" from swell and elegant; "grandificent" from grand and magnificent; "gabacious" from gabby and laquacious; "yellowcution" from yell and elocution, etc.

Carroll chose the term portmanteau because a type of telescope valve was called portmanteau, thus suggesting a telescoped word. It is interesting to note, however, that portmanteau is from the French portemanteau, "an officer who carries the mantle of the king."

Good Morning!

LIVING PHILOSOPHY—O. V. "Ollie" Thatcher, Escanaba insurance man, would probably be the first to deny that he has a philosophy for living. But his philosophy is certain he does have, and that it is a good one.

Ollie's philosophy is a simple one for anyone to follow. In fact it is so elemental that few people have discovered it. Briefly, it is the belief that life is an enjoyable experience and should be enjoyed. Ollie does it by being serious when others would weep, and gay when others would be serious.

It is the gaiety that marks Ollie's association with others. He smiles at events which to many would bring a long-drawn session with the little blue devils of unhappiness. The ability to see the brighter side of even the unpleasant experience is worth its weight in gold. Ollie has more of this gold than the army is guarding at Fort Knox.

IN APPLICATION—The other day Ollie had what others would consider the misfortune to break a leg in an accident in the yard at his home. Such an experience would send many a man into brooding retirement. Not so with Mr. Thatcher. He looked forward to Monday, Rotary club meeting day. An ardent Rotarian, Ollie plays the piano for the club singing which is led by Paul Bowers.

Another reason Ollie wanted to be at Rotary was because he was turning in his "birthday check." These checks presented by members on or near their birthdays go to the club's crippled children's fund.

Thinking of this Ollie wrote the following verse, which was presented at the Monday Rotary club meeting at the Delta hotel:

I've played for all your birthdays
When you brought around YOUR check.

But last year at MY birthday
I got it in the neck.

I sat down at the noise box
To hear your voices sing.
But I played alone and listened—
Not one of you would sing.

So THIS year, just to fool you,
I send my birthday check,
And, Charley, mark me absent
For I'm an awful wreck.

Of course I wear bi-focals,
Gall bladder have I none,
Tonsils long since taken out,
False teeth—yes, every one.

Appendix amputated,
One pelvis ain't so hot,
And now with right leg broken
The left is all I've got.

So you don't have to sing today
And I won't have to listen,
Cause to sing you all need music,
And your piano player's missin'.

THEY SANG—Les Olson, president of the Rotary club, read Ollie's poem with a smile, and the Rotarians (and Kiwanians, for it was a joint meeting) chuckled and laughed.

To hear them you'd think they enjoyed Ollie's broken leg almost as much as he did!

And so Ollie was at the meeting in spirit anyway, and that counted for a lot, because his is a spirit that even a broken leg and other physical imperfections (as listed in his verse) couldn't crack. Of course no one believes that Ollie's fractured femur was a subject for rejoicing, but when a man can smile the world does smile with him.

There was singing even though Ollie wasn't there to rattle the Ivories. Fred Johnson of the Kiwanis club took over for the club songs at the opening of the meeting, and played "Happy Birthday" with one-finger technique for the birthday check givers.

NOT THE LIVER—Incidentally, Ollie plays the piano as he lives, with a right good will and not too much attention to formalities.

He tells how he studied the piano in his youth and progressed amazingly, the pride of his family and the teacher, who he wangled into playing the pieces for him first. Come to find out later on, Ollie was playing from memory—he couldn't read a note!

That condition still exists to this day, he says. However it does not stop him from playing any tune he has heard. Rotarians are sometimes amused to hear Paul Bowers hum a new tune to Ollie for a few seconds before the meeting starts. When it's sung the accompaniment may not be faultless but it is vigorous.

No, the state of a man's disposition and his outlook on life are not controlled by the flow of his liver bile. They are the product of his mind.

THE LYONS DEN

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK—Wednesday after Dr. F. D. Patterson, president of Tuskegee; Dr. Thomas E. Jones, president of Fiske University, and Arnold Cohan, of the United Negro College Fund, whose money-raising drive is being headed by Tom Morgan, came to the White House for an appointment with President Truman. They were to receive the President's endorsement of the fund. While they were waiting in the outer office, Henry Wallace emerged from the President's office. Then the door opened and President Truman stuck his head out. "Well," he asked, surveying the roomful of visitors, "who's the next customer?"

JOHN GUNTHER, whose "Troubled Midnight" may be acquired as a starring vehicle for Ginger Rogers—she would like to make it into a Kitty Foyle in Government Service story—spoke to Jesse Jones, Sam Rayburn, Will Clayton and Sen. Tom Connally in his Texas research for "Inside U. S. A." Connally, who had read "Texas Brags," said: "If all the steers in Texas were one big steer, he could stand with his front feet in the Gulf of Mexico, his hind hole in the moon with his horns while he brushed off the mist of the Aurora Borealis with his tail."

DOUGLAS FREEMAN, the Pulitzer Prize-winning biographer of Robert E. Lee and author of "Lee's Lieutenants," adheres to a rigid schedule. He gets up at 4:30 a. m. every day in his home in Richmond, walks to work, stiffs salutes the statue of Robert E. Lee en route, edits his newspaper and then does two daily 15-minute broadcasts. "What are you writing now?" John Gunther asked him. Freeman reported that he is working on a new, massive, definitive biography of George Washington. "When will you finish it?" Gunther asked. "In 1952," replied the biographer, "on schedule."

THE CONTROVERSY caused the A. P.'s Ed Kennedy in breaking the Reims surrender story before the release date is reminiscent of the Rickett Concession incident in Ethiopia. Rickett had obtained a concession to exploit Ethiopia's oil and mineral resources because Haile Selassie felt that, with American interests there, Mussolini would not dare proceed on his threatened invasion. The correspondents at Addis Ababa were called in to witness the signing of the concession, and agreed not to transmit the story until the following day. James Mills of the A. P. then bribed the Danish manager of the radio station in Addis Ababa to transmit the story. The A. P.'s penalty was a 24-hour suspension.

THIS IS THE story told in France of Forain, the noted painter-engraver. Two hours before he died he opened his eyes, and saw his wife standing beside him. "You look fine," she assured the artist. Then his son arrived and said: "You look splendid, father." His maid came and said: "You look wonderful, wonderful." Then his doctor entered and pronounced: "Superb!" Forain nodded weakly to all of them and sighed: "I'm going to die cured."

DANNY WEBB, who made his radio debut Saturday over WOR as the "Comedy Commando," was an enlisted man who served overseas. He was shipped to Africa on the troop transport "Arcadia," now a hospital ship, and suffered from sea-sickness. His commander, Col. Louis Protzman, knew Webb at Ft. Monmouth and tried to administer the customary remedies, but the patient still groaned. Two football players were asked to help him. "So he's an actor, is he?" they muttered. "There's only one way to cure him." They lifted him from his bed, took him to the ship's theatre crowded with GIs, and placed him onstage. Webb was cured.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

(Col. R. S. Allen now on active service.)

A quiet move is under way to get France's Ex-Premier Edouard Herriot invited unofficially to the U. S. A., perhaps by Harvard, to cement relations with France, sagging as a result of De Gaulle-State Department bungling. Before France fell, Roosevelt proposed that 100 French leaders come to England or the U. S. A. to lead France from the outside, but Herriot refused. He said the leaders of France should stay and suffer with their people; also that the men who would lead France after the war would be those who suffered privation in France during the war.

A lot of people are not at all happy about having French Collaborationist Premier Laval brought to trial. He has a strong box in a Madrid bank containing correspondence with various people, including the British, which won't look good if made public in court. . . . Marshal Petain is in the same boat. He even has a signed treaty with Churchill. . . . Some day the real reason why Mussolini was shot instead of being brought to trial will leak out. He also had some papers. . . . If Hermann Goering really goes to trial, the true story of the mysterious Rudolf Hess flight to Scotland finally will be told. Some people are not too anxious to have Goering stand trial publicly.

—NEW JERSEY JUSTICE—

New Jersey's Attorney General Van Riper, though let off by one jury, still faces a charge of check kiting, plus another on income tax evasion. . . . when Chief Justice Stone of the supreme court was U. S. attorney general under Coolidge he fired Van Riper from the justice department, but Senator Walter Edge did his best to have him reinstated. Today Edge, now Governor of New Jersey, is still trying to protect Van Riper. . . . The parole board is split two-to-one against letting Louisiana's Ex-Governor Dick Lachute out of jail. The one member who wants to let him out is T. Webster Wilson from the neighboring state of Mississippi. But Edward Reidy and Arthur Wood are opposed.

Jonathan Daniels, retiring White House press chief, was offered by Truman the job of rural electrification administrator. He turned it down to go with the MacMillan Publishing Company. . . . If General William O'Dwyer doesn't run for mayor of New York, Warner Brothers have offered him a top spot in their company. . . . Liberty correspondent Burnet Hershey: Returning from the war zone, reports that various Allied groups already have begun grabbing for the huge German gold cache U. S. troops found in a salt mine. The gold bars are not stamped with the name of any country, and Holland has pointed out that part of her gold reserve was snatched by the Nazis.

—BARNEY BARUCH'S DREAM—

Barney Baruch has laid before President Truman an up-in-the-clouds proposal to reduce the cabinet to the state, war, navy and treasury departments, plus three other posts not now of cabinet status—Office of War Mobilizer, Foreign Economic Administrator and Barney Baruch, himself. Baruch is a little vague about what his job should be, but he is not vague about the fact that he wants a job in the cabinet. . . . President Truman listened to Baruch with outward cordiality, pretended he would think it over.

Democratic Chairman Hannegan has decided not to go to the Philippines on the junket with Senator Tydings. (There aren't any votes in the Philippines.) . . . Filipina leaders complain that when they go to see Tydings, chairman of the Insular Affairs Committee, he snaps at them: "Talk fast, talk fast." . . . Far-sighted General Fred Osborn, chief of the army's special services division is completing arrangements for opening a university in Paris where American soldiers can study until they are shipped home. . . . although Portugal broke off relations with Germany just before V-E day, she refused to cooperate with the Allies on the day following her break when the U. S. state department asked Portugal to "block all German and other enemy accounts and safe deposit boxes." The Portuguese refused, declaring such action would mean war with Germany.

—VANDENBERG'S "CHINAMAN"—

Senator Arthur Vandenberg is working sincerely and energetically at being a statesman and bringing good-will to the Allies. But he's not doing so well with the Chinese. The other day, Vandenberg was asked some questions by newsmen about proposed amendments to the United Nations charter.

"They don't have a Chinaman's chance," was his reply. Four Chinese newsmen present were furious, said nothing.

NOTE—The late Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox got into the same kind of trouble right after Pearl Harbor when the Chinese Ambassador called to express China's sorrow at Japan's sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

"We'll fix those yellow-bellied so and so's," exploded Knox in reply.

VFW PROPOSES YOUTH CENTER

Cooperation Of Other Groups Sought To Discuss Plans

The Escanaba post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in meeting Tuesday night proposed a renewed effort to be made to establish a center for youth in Escanaba, and will seek to interest other local organizations in supporting the plan.

Jacob A. Bink, commander of the VFW post, yesterday said that the VFW voted to contribute $25 toward the initial establishment of such a youth center. The members indicated they favored a program to interest other organizations and that if sufficient interest is shown a meeting would be held for further discussion of the proposed project.

Escanaba groups and organizations interested in co-sponsoring the proposed youth center have been requested by Commander Bink to contact or telephone him. Organizations could appoint a committee of one or more persons, who would meet with other representatives for further consideration of the project.

Commander Bink said that considerable study has been made of youth centers in other parts of the country to obtain information on how they are organized and operated.

One such study recommends that young people pay an annual one dollar membership fee. They are issued a membership card and this entitles them to participate in the youth center activities. Misbehavior, however, ends their membership privilege.

The information which Commander Bink has obtained on the operation of youth centers would be submitted to an interested group, he said. Other organizations in Escanaba have in the past expressed interest in the youth center project.

Cohodas Employees Are Placed Under Pension Program

Ishpeming—Forty employees and branch managers of the Ishpeming, Escanaba, Iron River and Iron Mountain units of Cohodas Brothers Co., were guests of the management in the Mather Inn at a dinner at which they received their copies of contracts by which they become part of the employees' pension trust set up by the company. The employees do not contribute toward the cost of the plan.

The meeting here was one of a series of six being held by the organization to acquaint its employees with provisions of the trust, to explain the difference between the insurance and retirement annuity provisions of the plan and the various options that rest with the employee in determining how he can use to best advantage the money accruing to him at various stages in the trust.

S. M. Cohodas, president, speaking to the employees and branch managers, expressed his pleasure and that of his brothers in being able to develop the trust plan. "It represents," he said, "months of research to find the plan best fitted to the needs of our employees and the resources of our organization."

"The plan is designed to build a financial estate for eligible employees upon retirement and immediate money for dependents, if plans for the future are cut short by disability or death."

"Business must be profitable to be successful and it must be successful to survive. On this philosophy the company believes a business should share with those who help assure its success."

A wedding of local interest was that which took place in Racine Saturday, April 28th, and an excerpt from a paper of that city reads:

"Marvin A. Brien, who received a medical discharge from the Army last October after serving a year and 11 months overseas in the South Pacific, claimed a bride, Elizabeth Morin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Morin of Garden, Michigan, on Saturday at 10 a. m. at St. Rose church."

Salvation Army Patrol Installed

The Neighborhood Patrol, 407 sponsored by the Salvation Army and under the direction of Milton Anderson, Scoutmaster, was duly installed in its official capacity during a Scouting ceremony, held Tuesday evening.

Members of the Patrol committee were unable to attend. A large group of parents and friends of Scouting were present.

The ceremony opened with singing "America," followed with the Pledge to the Flag, and invocation. The certificate of registration was presented to Chairman Ettenhoffer, who pledged the support of the committee toward the successful operation of the unit. Certificates of registration in the Boy Scouts of America, were presented to Scouters and Scouts.

Scouts were: John Kuchenberg, Glen Larson, Charles Olson, and Gordon Hermes. This unit is small thus it is called a patrol. Any group of boys desiring to take part in Scouting, but have not enough members to make a troop, which takes eight, can organize as a patrol. Already the patrol has made itself known in many ways.

The unit will hold its next meeting Monday evening, May 21 at its headquarters plans at that time will be made for attending summer camp and the June camp-o-ree.

Many Logs Left To Spoil In Woods

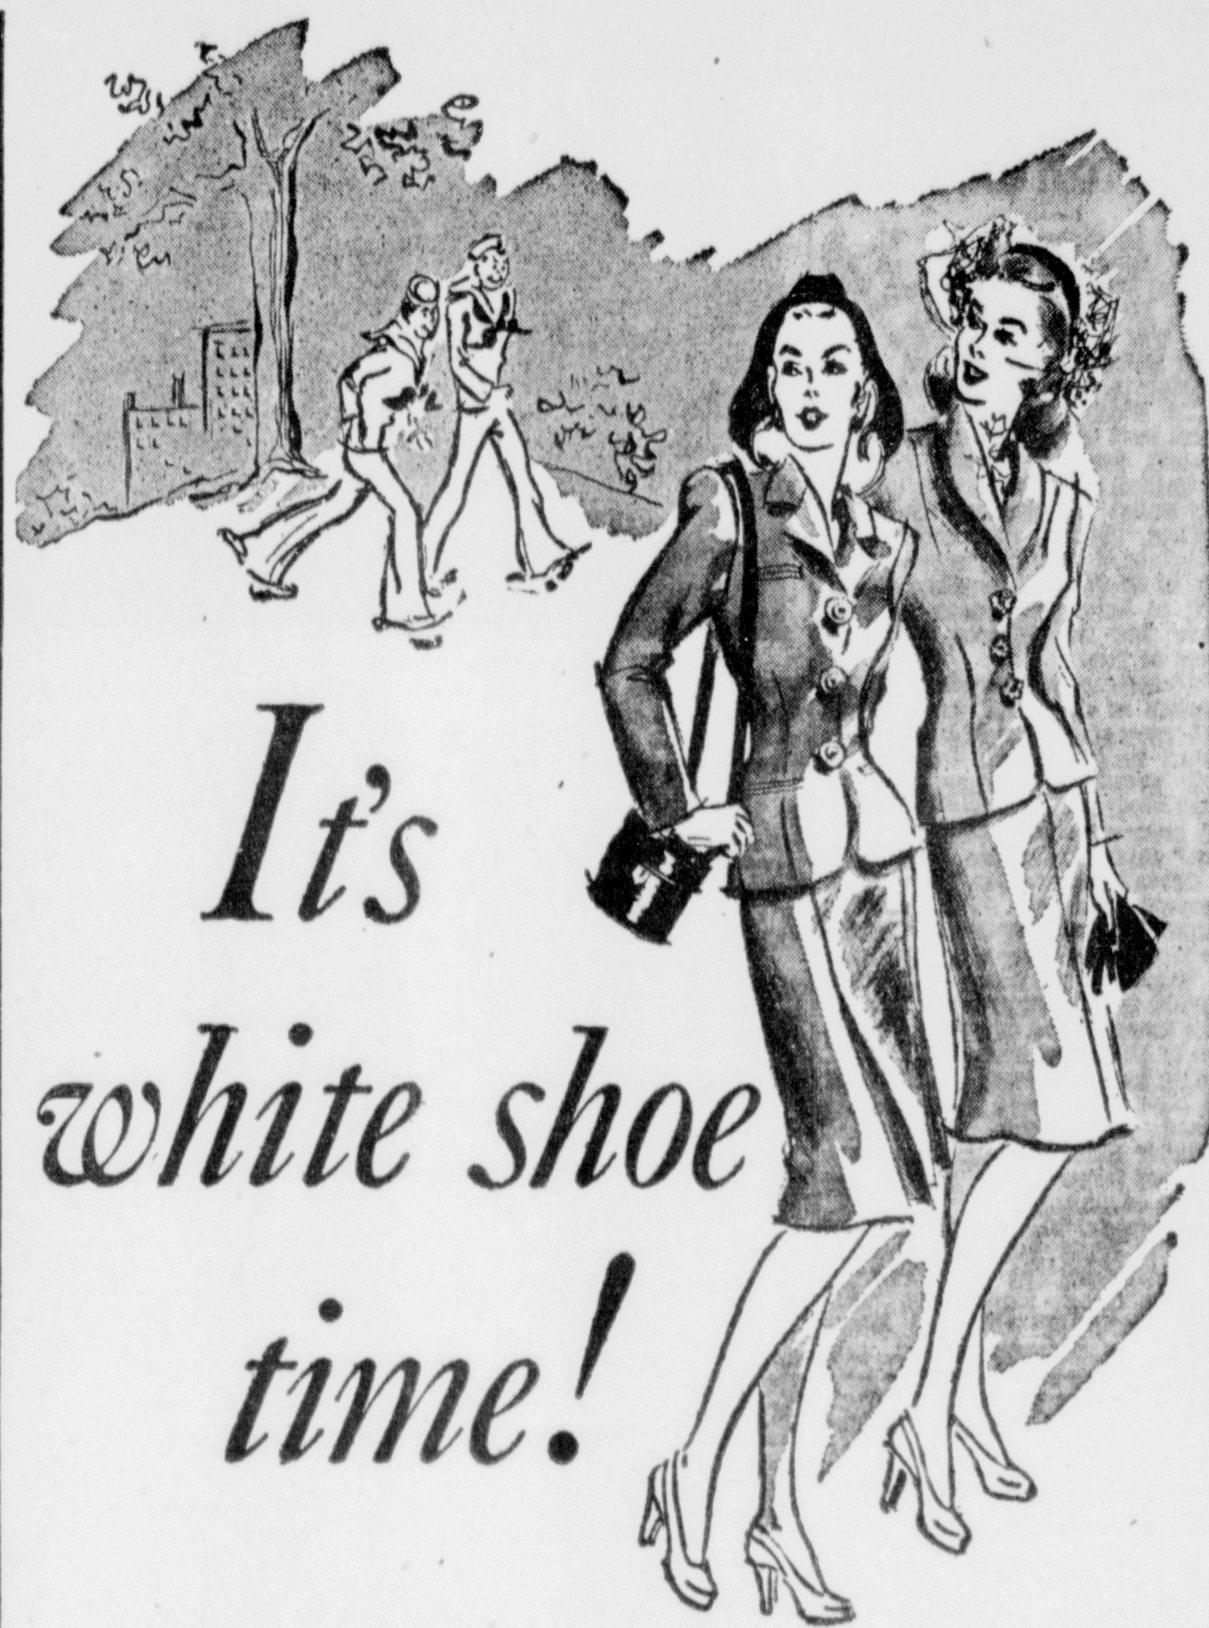

Van Meer—What appears to be a great waste to the timber conscious eyes of people from areas where timber is getting scarce, is the number of logs left to waste in the woods of upper Michigan.

Here and there over the lumbering area one can find first class logs—perhaps one here—a half dozen there. Some dumped beside the roads, some left in the woods. The fact is that where not enough logs are at hand to make up another load they are left. Probably the idea is that they will be picked up later but in many cases they are simply allowed to spoil. Often due to some accident or the conditions of the road, logs are left beside the road. Occasionally these are picked up at a later date but often they, too, are left to spoil.

The observer may think—"what I couldn't do with some of that lumber from those logs left to spoil."

But, due to shortages in manpower and machinery—it is just one of those things that can't be helped.

Army Recruiting Work Continues From Green Bay

Now in charge of the U. S. Army Recruiting Station at 302 Federal Building, Green Bay, Wis., is Lt. Dorothy L. Grimm, WAC, who was a member of the first basic training company at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, in August, 1942.

The WAC has become an integral part of the Army and its services are still vitally needed. Lt. Grimm announces that women may enlist to perform jobs in medical, clerical and mechanical capacities if they are between the ages of 20-50, an American citizen with at least two years of high school and no children under 14 years of age.

"Victorious commanders in all theaters of operation have urged that more and more WAC's be assigned to their units because of their proven efficiency and intense desire to materially aid in the successful prosecution of the war," says Lt. Grimm. "Especially needed are women to train as physical therapists. A six months course followed by three months on-the-job training will be given to women who have completed 4 years in an approved college with emphasis on physical education or biological sciences.

Also being enlisted are 17 year old boys who have successfully passed the Army Specialized Training Reserve program examinations; recruitment for Army Nurses continues.

All persons who are eligible are urged to apply for their immediate enlistment at the Federal Bldg. in Green Bay, Wis. The WAC recruiting office in Marquette was recently closed, and the Upper Peninsula work is now handled by the Green Bay office. Lt. Grimm was a visitor in Escanaba yesterday.

PIONEER RETURNS—Herman Robinson, 86-year-old former Wells resident, (right) came here this week from Gresham, Ore., to visit his old friend, C. U. Woolpert, (left), who was superintendent of the Wells schools when Robinson was master mechanic at the I. Stephenson company plant.

Born in Osnabruck, May 10, 1859 Robinson first came to Escanaba in 1880 and worked for awhile for the Chicago and North Western railway, later going to Norway, Mich. Then, he went to Marinette, where he was employed with the N. Ludington company for 11 years. Robinson was employed with the I. Stephenson company from 1899 to 1918, when he went to Oregon, where he worked as head millwright and master mechanic for many years.

Several years ago, he retired to his son's berry ranch, but when war broke out he returned to work at the shipyards in Astoria, Ore. Before he retired last December, he was the oldest man on the job there. Mr. Robinson's wife, the former Jennie Miller of Marinette, died several years ago. He has a daughter, Mrs. George Harrison, Oakland, Calif., and a son, Edgar Robinson, Grasham, Ore.

Red Buck District Will Hold Meeting, Bark River Tonight

The Red Buck district of the Boy Scouts of America, consisting of Delta, Schoolcraft, Menominee counties will hold its May meeting in Bark River, at the Hotel Perket, beginning at 6:30 p. m. this evening.

Members of the district committees, commissioners, committeemen of units, and Scoutmasters and Cubmasters are urged to attend. This meeting will consist of roundtable discussions of the six operating committees, namely, organization and extension, with Charles Manson of Manistique, acting chairman; leadership training, John Norton of Gladstone, chairman; camping and activities, Fred Johnson of Escanaba, chairman; advancement, C. E. Hawkins of Gladstone, chairman; health and safety, Dr. Rudolph Erickson of Escanaba, chairman; finance, Fred Hahne of Manistique, chairman. Reports on Scouting in general will be given besides the reports on each roundtable discussion.

One important problem to come up before the meeting this evening will be the obtaining of assistance in making repairs at Red Buck camp. Some damage was done to one of the buildings during the recent snows of last winter. Plans to enlarge the mess hall are also underway.

Plans have been developed by chairman of the district, James T. Jones, for a most successful meeting.

Troop 499 Holds

Special Program

For Mother's Day

Troop 499, of the Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Immanuel Lutheran Brotherhood, presented a Mothers' Day program in honor of the Scouts' Mothers. The program was presented by William Krah, Scoutmaster, in cooperation with the Brotherhood. Scout pins representing the rank of Scouting were presented by the Scouts to their mothers in token of their esteem.

Other numbers on this program were two songs by a boys quartette, made up of Boy Scouts, and a short talk on Scouts and Mother's day, by S. N. Bradford. Miss Faye Krak and Mrs. Hilmer Johnson sang a duet in honor of the occasion, accompanied by Mrs. Schuster, at the piano.

Troop 499, is one of the new units in Escanaba, and is progressing slowly but surely. Since its steady advancement has been made toward a firm foundation. The committee is very active, with some in attendance at every Scout meeting. It is the plan of the Scoutmaster, that all Scouts of the Troop will be Second Class Scouts by the time of the Scout Camporee, which is to be held June 8 and 9.

News From Men In The Service

M. H. Selander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Selander of Groos, who has been in the South Pacific for the past two years, has been promoted from pfc to sergeant.

Aboard the Destroyer Dortch in the Western Pacific—John Francis Menard, chief boatswain's mate USN, whose father, Theodore Arthur Menard, lives at 297 North 18th street, Escanaba, is serving aboard this gallant destroyer which has been in every major battle of the Pacific since the Marshall Islands invasion, and which took part in the first and second carrier strikes at Tokyo.

Her guns have knocked down five Jap pilots and her crewmen have rescued 27 downed American airmen. With other destroyers in her squadron, she has accounted for 45 Jap fighters and bombers, a destroyer, a merchant ship and six picked boats. In addition, they picked up 29 Jap airmen and seamen.

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England—The promotion of Horace M. Cottle, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Cottle, Sr., Brown's Station, from corporal to sergeant was recently announced by his group commander, Col. James W. Wilson of Bowling Green, Ohio. His wife, Mrs. Helen F. Cottle, Jr., lives at 314 Stephenson avenue, Escanaba, Mich.

Sgt. Cottle is a waist gunner of a B-17 Flying Fortress in the 92nd Bombardment Group, oldest Fortress group in the U. S. Eighth Air Force.

Sgt. Cottle graduated from Hickman high school, Columbia, Mo., in 1939, and was employed by the Consolidated Aircraft Co., San Diego, Calif., before entering the armed forces in April, 1944.

Lt. (j. g.) John Anthony has been promoted to the rank of full lieutenant in the navy. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Anthony, Lake Shore Drive, Lt. Anthony has been overseas since October, 1944, and is in the South Pacific.

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England—Staff Sergeant Charles O. Nelson, 23, of Gladstone, Mich., has been awarded the second Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal, equivalent to the third award of the medal, for "meritorious achievement" while taking part in the recent Eighth Air Force bombing attacks on Nazi airfields and railroad marshalling yards in coordination with the tank and infantry thrusts at the heart of the crumbling Third Reich.

The airman displayed "courage, coolness and skill" while serving as a tail turret gunner with the 490th Bomber Group, a B-17 Flying Fortress unit of the Eighth Air Force.

Sgt. Nelson's wife, Josephine, and his son, Robert Charles, live on Route One, Gladstone. He is the son of Otto Nelson of 833 West 58th street, Chicago, and prior to entering the Army Air Forces in December, 1943, was employed by the Central Screw company in Chicago.

Miami Beach, Fla.—Tech. 5 Vernon Hastings, 32, husband of Mrs. Lillian A. Hastings of 1608 Washington Ave., Escanaba, Mich., has returned from service outside the continental United States and is now being processed through the Army Ground and Service Forces Redistribution Station in Miami Beach, where his next assignment will be determined.

Cpl. Hastings served 30 months as a mechanic in the Southwest Pacific theater of operations. While there he was awarded the Asiatic-Pacific campaign ribbon with one battle star.

An Eighth Air Force Fighter Station, England—When Corporal Gordon W. McLeod, of Escanaba, Mich., an airplane armorer at this Eighth Air Force P-51 Mustang station watched his group take off for Munich on two successive days a few months ago, he checked off the missions as routine.

What Cpl. McLeod didn't know was that those two missions were destined to bring to the 339th Fighter Group, commanded by Colonel John B. Henry, Jr., of San Antonio, Texas, a unit citation in the name of the president of the United States.

Besides protecting American heavy bombers, the group hit Nazi airfields to destroy 43 planes and damage 53 more "with utter disregard for the intensity and accuracy of enemy anti-aircraft and small arms fire." Serious bomber losses were avoided when the group drove off more than 100 Messerschmitt 109's, destroying 15, probably destroying one, and damaging three.

The citation, highest award given a unit, focused attention on the "unselfish devotion to duty and the tireless energy of its ground personnel and proficiency and gallantry of its pilots." Proclaiming the group had clearly distinguished itself in battle, the citation stated in conclusion that "the gallantry, fortitude and esprit de corps displayed by the members of the group on these occasions exemplify the highest traditions of the Army Air Forces."

Cpl. McLeod, who came to England a year ago, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. McLeod, 200 South Sixth street. His wife, Mrs. Mary L. McLeod, lives in Marshall, Mich.

The effect of Nazi propaganda on the German people was described in an interesting letter from Pfc. Arthur Flath, written to his grandmother, Mrs. Emma Drush, 1219 South Ninth avenue. Excerpts from his letter which was dated April 15, follow:

"Dear Grandma, "It's been a long time since I last wrote, but we've moved so fast since we crossed the Rhine that I've had hardly any time to myself.

"The other day we drove up to a castle, with the intention of staying over night, and found twelve German soldiers there. They surrendered immediately, without firing a shot. There were refugees there from Breslau, too. One woman came up to me and grabbed me by the arm. She pleaded with me to kill her, but to let her children live. That's how much these people are filled with propaganda. They were told that the Americans would kill all the women and children. It's really comical to see the bewildered look on their faces. The roadsides are loaded with civilians coming back to their homes, after living in the woods and caves.

"I can't tell you exactly where I am, but we're not far from the Russians. I'm still fine and in the best of health. Had the opportunity to attend church today. It certainly was a beautiful sermon, as it was a memorial service for the president. Loads of love, Artie."

Girl Scout Dinner Held at Newberry

Newberry, Mich.—A Girl Scout banquet was held Saturday evening, May 12, in the dining room of the community building. The mothers and daughters were lined up alphabetically. As Mrs. Russ Pelletier read the names; the mothers and daughters marched in while the school orchestra played. Each mother was presented with a corsage which the girls had made.

Mrs. Leonard Grien thanked the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, scout mothers, officers and leaders, and Girl Scouts for their work. She recalled instances of childhood which she believed to be like all mothers.

Mary Ellen announced the leaders of the various scout troops, and the program which they had prepared, starting with Mable Victorson, head of one Brownie Troop, Mary Beaulieu, Virgene Miller, Jeanine Johnson, Patricia Johnson and Jerrolyn Moshur recited a poem, "I Love You Mother." Oil Base Dries
Nails Quickly

You can stop waving your hands in the air to speed up the drying of a manicure or last-minute patch-ups, says model Kay Perry—who is a clock-watcher, too—if you'll use an instant-dry oil base over your sticky polish.

To apply her miracle-worker, which Kay says cuts down the drying time of nails, she puts it on over polish as soon as nails are slick enough to touch.

Then, her trick is to give the speed-up liquid another minute in which to do its stuff. After that she lightly wipes off excess oil with a piece of cleaning tissue. Not only are hands back into circulation sooner but nails look more brilliant, cuticles are smoother and more flexible.

Farm Loan Features Of Bill Of Rights To Be Explained

Farm loan features of the G. I. Bill of Rights, which make possible the granting of loans to returned veterans of the present war for the purpose of entering in and carrying on farm operations, will be discussed at a public meeting to be held at the court room of the court house on the evening of Wednesday, May 23.

Byron L. Braamse, district Farm Security Administration supervisor, of Escanaba, will speak and later answer questions touching on this phase of the G. I. bill.

A special invitation to be present has been sent to township supervisors, American Legion officials, bankers, members of the draft board, the county clerk, and the county agent's advisory committee for returned veterans. All returned veterans, or representative members of their families are also urged to be present.

The provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights permit the granting of loans to returned veterans who wish to engage in farming, but these loans before they may be certified, have to be passed on by a certifying committee which will consider the soundness of the proposed investment and the veteran's qualifications for carrying on farming operations. Some of the things this committee will have to consider will be discussed at the meeting.

That this loan provision is already being put into practice is revealed by the fact that an application of a veteran, whose name has not been disclosed, has been returned to the local committee for consideration.

Members of Troop No. 7 of the Girl Scouts entertained their mothers at the First Lutheran church Monday evening. Miss Jenny Lind, Girl Scout executive, was also present.

The girls were invested as Scouts at the beginning of the evening. The investiture service opened with a pledge of allegiance to the flag and singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Pins were then given each Scout.

Singing of "Mother" by the group brought the program to a close.

A tasty luncheon was served. On the luncheon committee were Lois LaFond, Dolores Louis and Roseann Sirola.

Troop leaders are Hilda Apelgren, Marybel Dunsmore and Mrs. George Stecker.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY TONIGHT

"Ever Since Eve", 3-Act Comedy, Is Annual Stage Play

"Ever Since Eve", 3-act comedy written by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements will be presented at the high school gymnasium this evening at 8 o'clock by the Senior Class.

The dialogue is modern and clever and situations truly humorous.

Direction is by Miss Elizabeth Millward.

When Martha Willard (June VanDeWeghe) insists that the girls of Preston High be represented on the P. H. S. paper, the Penguin, trouble begins for Editor John C. Clover (Ray LeRoux) and Manager "Spud" Erwin (Mike Hestlin). The girls' representative, Susan Blake (Betty Erwin (Carolyn Rose)), in an attempt to try their skill in modern journalism, come face to face with the Law Officer Simmons (Ronald Martin); the girls also completely change the future of Martha Willard and Henry Quinn, the principal of P. H. S. (Frank Schneck).

Sweet, brainless Lucybell Lee (Elaine Norton) from the South complicates the boys' lives by not only attracting them but also the football captain, Preston Hughes (Irving DeRoock).

Mr. and Mrs. Clover (James Kallman and June Settelund) stand by and observe the difficulties which involve the young people; their words of advice have little effect upon the youngsters.

Tractor Experts To Give Help Hints to Farmers

Timely hints and demonstrations showing how tractors may be used to best advantage and repairs and adjustments made with a minimum of time and expense involved, will be given at a meeting for Ford-Ferguson equipment owners at the Richards Brothers implement shop on River street, Friday afternoon.

This meeting is of special importance to users of this make of machinery, Lester Richards, of the local firm states. In view of the fact that new equipment and spare parts are still hard to get, it will serve the farmers well to attend the meeting and put up on the best ways of conserving the machinery, and how to make minor adjustments and repairs with material on hand.

Leaves Today For More Treatment At Army Hospital

Sgt. John Strehl is on his way to Jackson, Miss., to resume hospitalization for injuries received in the service, after spending the past several days in Manistique at the home of his mother, Mrs. William Strehl, 420 Oak street.

John sustained extremely serious injuries to both of his knees and it will be many months, perhaps years, before those joints may be able to function properly, but like a good soldier he is taking his troubles on the chin and getting great satisfaction out of the fact that the Germans are now licked and will stay licked for years to come.

He was with the Seventh Armored division in Belgium on last January 26. His outfit had just retaken a Belgian town that had been taken from Americans exactly one month before that. In a sudden counter-attack, John was forced to dive into a shell hole for protection and it was then that a small shell landed between his knees and exploded.

He was hospitalized first in Belgium and then taken to England. The wounds are healing nicely and X-rays reveal no shrapnel.

Chicago (AP)—High school students have been drawing posters with a "Get a War Job" theme. But recently one of the sponsors, Col. Dan A. Hardt of the Production Urgency Information Committee, received a request from a principal to pick up the art work quickly. "The pupils have become so convinced," the educator explained, "that many of them are quitting school to take war jobs."

3,500 Acres Of Potatoes To Be Planted In County

Turning from the spring planting of grains, Delta county farmers next week will start planting approximately 3,500 acres of potatoes on land that last year produced record yields of top-quality spuds.

Of the total acreage to be planted in the county, all but about 500 acres will be under the "commercial" classification, County Agent E. A. Wenner said yesterday. The 500 acres are in small garden plots.

Although goals for 1945 were set higher than last year for the county, the acreage to be planted this year will be about the same as last, Wenner added.

The number of certified seed growers this year is expected to number 33, the same as last year. Delta county is second in the state in the number of certified potato growers. Only Emmet county with 38 topped Delta last year.

Delta county's average production per acre last year was 187 bushels per acre, Wenner said. If production holds up as well in 1945 it is anticipated that Delta county's 3,500 acres this year will produce 653,500 bushels of potatoes to help feed the nation.

This year marks the start of the sixth annual Potato Booster program sponsored by the Escanaba Potato Potato Booster association composed of Escanaba business men.

The county's rapid growth in potato production has been ascribed in large part to the Potato program, in which cash awards are made to the grower using approved production methods and achieving high yields.

Last year the prize money was increased from $500 to $600 and will continue at the higher figure again this year. Certified growers compete for $230 of the prize money, and $370 goes to winning tablestock growers.

Last year's contest was highlighted by the production record accomplished by Emil DeBacker of St. Nicholas, who raised 715 bushels of potatoes per acre. It was the first time in the history of the state that a 700 or more bushels per acre yield had been achieved.

If possible, scrape off the old glue before applying new. Vinegar applied vigorously with an old toothbrush usually will remove old glue. If the joint is very loose, use plastic wood cement instead of glue.

A. This matter is left to the bride for decision, but usually the maid of honor walks just before the bride.

RICHARDS MADE A SPEECH - and "Safety First" was born

Some years after the turn of the century, "North Western's" Ralph C. Richards delivered an address before a group of employees. His subject was, "Conservation of Men."

Richards was a crusader, in the finest sense of the word. He felt keenly the need for safety education. To him the saving of human life was a sacred duty... he rebelled at the easy philosophy that permitted carelessness to go unchallenged.

In 1910, thanks to Richards' zeal, "North Western" began systematic efforts to reduce accidents... thus the first railroad accident prevention organization came into being.

Richards' influence spread. The Father of the "Safety First" movement won recognition from cities, states, industries and other railroads. Finally, came the National Safety Council, the attainment of his long sought ambition.

Richards' dream had come true. Accidents were reduced... lives were saved... a new "Safety First" era had begun!

Today, "Safety First" is a by-word on every railroad and in all industries. The security of travelers is important; that of employees equally so. Safety measures, too numerous to mention, have been introduced. Along with faster train schedules have come protective devices, such as automatic train control, that have made train travel safer than an evening at home. In the years to come "North Western," always a leader in the "Safety First" movement, will continue to pioneer. Safety—first, last and always!
